Code of Conduct

Approval Date: 2025-09-04 • Effective Date: 2025-06-03 • Version: 1.1 • Approved by: Interim Council

1. Purpose

This Code of Conduct provides guidelines for how Affiliates (Fellows and Associates) or staff of the Ronin Institute for Independent Scholarship 2.0 (RIIS 2.0) are expected to behave at all times. This Code of Conduct applies to all venues, including, but not limited to, RIIS 2.0 venues where Affiliates or staff may interact with other people. This Code of Conduct also applies to any time or place where we gather, including, but not limited to, places that are funded by or through, and/or represent RIIS 2.0 (including during travel for RIIS 2.0-related purposes). This Code of Conduct codifies the expectations of behavior of RIIS 2.0 to align with the values contained in the Belonging Policy.

Our goal is to work together to help support a safe environment for everyone. As a community, we commit to enforcing this code as our Institute grows. This document is provided to Affiliates and employees upon joining RIIS 2.0 and is used as guidance to assess any behavioral issues that might come up. Importantly, this Code of Conduct helps to establish the culture that we want for our community.

2. Core Principles of Conduct

RIIS 2.0 aims for a flat, non-hierarchical structure, where every person here is, first and foremost, of equal standing. RIIS's Code of Conduct boils down to common sense and basic manners, but here are a few rules of thumb:

Be kind:

Be attentive to people's personal boundaries, and seek consent as much as possible. Be thoughtful when talking with or about each other; consider your word choices carefully. Remember that tone can be hard to judge online. Instead of labeling or classifying people, describe people's actions or behaviors. Recognize people's capacity to learn, grow, and change. Sometimes, we make mistakes. Let's assume that we each hope to do better.

Be open-minded:

There will doubtless be opportunities for spirited discussion, which will sometimes become heated. That's a good thing, so long as we value different perspectives with an open and listening mind. One must challenge one's own assumptions about oneself and others.

Practice fairness:

We should all be working to ensure that everyone has the opportunity to participate, share their ideas, and feel valued. Keep an eye out for opportunities to engage people who might feel less confident. Speak plainly, and avoid acronyms, jargon, slang, and idioms; some GIFs/emojis might not translate across cultures. Physical appearance, clothing, and demographic characteristics are unlikely to be germane to any of your conversations at RIIS 2.0. Offer clear and constructive comments that are helpful rather than critical. Be a humble expert and avoid lecturing. Be conscious of who is doing the heavy lifting in groups and activities (note-taking, scheduling, document creation, organizing). Aim to involve, rather than omit, as well as to flatten our power structures through sharing authority.

Be responsible:

We are all responsible for upholding the professional reputation and culture of RIIS 2.0 whenever and wherever we are associated with it. RIIS 2.0 funds and assets (including names, logos, email addresses, and websites) must be used responsibly, legally, and ethically.

Be proactive:

As a community, we are responsible for our institutional culture. Look out for opportunities where we can proactively shape our culture rather than letting events or our reactions shape our culture for us. If you experience or witness any harassment that is occurring and you feel safe doing so, RIIS 2.0 supports your efforts to call out harassment (describe it for what it is and ask the individual to stop) and support anyone who may be affected. You are also encouraged to reach out to any of the Code of Conduct contacts (below) to let someone know what happened.

Act In Good Faith and Assume Good Faith from Others:

Two of our core values at RIIS 2.0 are Truth and Empathy. To embody these, Affiliates should come prepared to engage with each other in good faith, presenting thoughts and ideas honestly and clearly, and listening to others with an open mind.

RIIS 2.0 Affiliates are a multifaceted group, representing different academic disciplines, career stages, cultures, and sets of obligations and constraints. We each have different career and life goals, as well as backgrounds and cultural contexts.

Always take a breath and remind yourself that there is a person on the other side of the conversation. Work under the assumption that they, like you, are intelligent and well-intentioned. Remember that we're all in this together, and it is not a zero-sum game. Anything that helps one of our RIIS 2.0 Affiliates achieve their own goals helps the entire community. Our job is to provide mutual support in a way that will help each person benefit from RIIS 2.0 and achieve success on their own terms.

3. Community Conduct

Compliance with Law:

We comply with the law, including the laws governing nonprofit organizations and workplace behavior. We understand that, as a charity, we operate exclusively for public benefit and not for private purposes, and we are subject to stringent rules relating to conflicts of interest and political activities. We expect Affiliates and employees to understand the legal and regulatory requirements applicable to their role, including federal, state, and foreign laws, as well as the relevant regulatory schemes. All Affiliates and employees are also expected to act with integrity and to exercise good judgment and common sense in their efforts to comply with all applicable laws, rules, and regulations, and are encouraged to ask for advice when they are uncertain about them.

The organization shall comply with all applicable anti-discrimination laws, including Title VI, Title VII, and Title IX of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967 (ADEA), the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (as amended), and the ADA Amendments Act of 2008 ADAAA. 42 U.S.C. ch 126 12101 et seq. that prohibit unfavorable treatment of any legally protected characteristics of individuals in its programs, activities, employment, and governance.

Harassment

RIIS 2.0 has a zero-tolerance policy for harassment, unfair treatment, other kinds of harassment (including, but not limited to, sexual harassment), or bullying of any kind. “Harassment” is defined as unwelcome conduct that deprives another individual of the opportunities and peaceful enjoyment they may take from participating in the community or an activity, when the perpetrator knows or ought to know that the conduct is unwelcome. Harassment can be a one-time severe event or repeated minor offenses.

We do not tolerate harassment in any form. Different types of harassing actions include, but are not limited to:

- Offensive verbal or written comments related to sex, sexual orientation, disability, physical appearance, body size, race, age, religion, etc
- Deliberate intimidation, stalking, following, bullying, or hostility
- Threats or acts of violence
- Unauthorized photography or recording, including making public recordings or screenshots of online discussions conducted through RIIS 2.0 platforms (e.g., Slack, Discord, Zoom) without permission of the participants.
- Sustained disruption of events or discussions
- Sexual advances or suggestive behavior/language
- Microaggressions, which are everyday verbal, nonverbal, and environmental slights, snubs, or insults that communicate hostile, derogatory, or negative messages and serve to exclude others
- Retaliation against anyone who reports a potential Code of Conduct violation
- Advocating for or encouraging any of the above behaviors

Other Issues:

Code of Conduct violations also include:

- Deliberate misrepresentation of research or scholarship

- Violation of confidentiality agreements or privacy expectations (see above)

Affiliates and employees are expected to comply with all applicable policies of RIIS 2.0, including any related to non-discrimination and conflicts of interest.

A RIIS 2.0 Affiliate who is asked by any person to stop behaviors that breach the Code of Conduct is expected to cease those behaviors immediately. All breaches of the Code of Conduct are taken seriously, and RIIS 2.0 will take action as needed.

4. Report concerns

If you are being harassed, intimidated, or have any other concerns, please follow our Conflict Resolution Policy immediately. If you are unsure whether the incident is a violation or whether the space where it happened is covered by this Code of Conduct, we still encourage you to report it. We pledge to listen and follow this policy to help Affiliates feel safe and comfortable at RIIS 2.0.

All reports will be kept confidential. Any conflicts of interest will be managed to ensure that your concern is addressed fairly. RIIS 2.0 does not tolerate retaliation against or the victimization of any RIIS 2.0 Affiliate who raises concerns or questions regarding a potential violation of the Code of Conduct.

Conflict Resolution Policy

Approval Date: 2025-09-04 • Effective Date: 2025-06-10 • Version: 1.1 • Approved by: Interim Council

1. Purpose

This policy outlines a procedure that is designed to address conduct issues and conflicts, defined as formal complaints related to violations of RIIS 2.0 policies, including but not limited to the Code of Conduct and Belonging Policy, in a transparent, fair, and non-retaliatory manner.

2. Scope

This procedure applies to:

- All RIIS 2.0 Affiliates, including Fellows and Associates.
- Actions that could lead to misconduct in financial reporting are unlawful and are inconsistent with announced policies or procedures or otherwise amount to serious improper conduct. The Conflict Resolution Policy is intended to encourage and enable a reporting person to raise serious concerns within RIIS 2.0 before seeking resolution outside of the RIIS 2.0. Such conduct could include questionable accounting reports or internal controls, unethical business conduct, concerns about health risks, sexual harassment, or discrimination based on race, gender, gender identity, sexual orientation, religion, or disability within RIIS 2.0.

3. Principles

- Fairness: All parties have a right to be heard and treated equitably.
- Confidentiality: Disclosures are handled with discretion to the extent possible.
- Impartiality: Oversight is conducted by individuals without direct conflicts of interest.
- Restorative Orientation: Where feasible, processes seek restoration over disciplinary actions.

4. Submission of statements of concern

A statement of concern may be submitted to any of the Council members of RIIS 2.0 listed on the RIIS 2.0 website (or to the email for the Council as a whole listed on the website), whose responsibility is to begin the investigative process. Please see the preliminary investigation description below.

Submissions must include:

- Full name and contact information of the complainant.
- Detailed description of the concern or conflict (including names, dates, and evidence).
- Desired resolution (if any).
- Whether the complainant would prefer to remain anonymous.
  - a. Note: We cannot guarantee anonymity; however, we will make a good faith effort upon request of the complainant, including keeping testimony or evidence in a secure location with limited access. In addition, efforts to maintain anonymity may limit the investigation scope.

Statements of concern about events older than 2 years after the complainant was made aware will be investigated only at the discretion of the Council.

5. Investigation

- Acknowledgment of receipt within 30 days by the receiving Council member.
- Preliminary investigation conducted by the receiving Council member and a subset of the Council group. The preliminary investigation can have three possible results:
  - a. Dismissed for insufficient evidence, if deemed frivolous, or outside the purview of RIIS 2.0.
  - b. Referred to the appropriate parties if minor or administrative.
  - c. Advanced to review if substantive and actionable.
- If Advanced to review:
  - The receiving Council member will recommend a Conflict Resolution Panel (the “Panel”) of three impartial members to the Council, which will approve the composition of the members.
  - The complainant and the respondent will be interviewed by the Panel, as well as relevant witnesses as needed, and evidence will be collected.
  - The complainant will be notified and given the opportunity to respond.
  - All participants in the investigation must maintain confidentiality about the investigation.
  - The Panel will issue a set of findings and recommend an outcome.

6. Findings and Outcomes

The results of the conflict resolution process are referred to the Council. This includes all preliminary investigation outcomes—whether dismissal, referral, or advancement to review with Panel involvement. If a case is advanced to a review and a Panel is convened, the Panel’s findings and recommended outcome are submitted to the Council. The Council will review all relevant information and issue a final outcome. If a Panel investigation were conducted, the outcome would include a summary of its findings. In all cases, the Council will recommend one of the following outcomes, which can include:

- A finding of Insufficient Evidence / Dismissal
- Informal resolution (e.g., mediated apology, restorative circle)
- Formal action, such as:
  - a. Written warning.
  - b. Temporary suspension.
  - c. Termination of Affiliation.

Outcomes are communicated from the Council to all directly involved parties in writing. In rare cases, RIIS 2.0 may be ethically or legally required to issue a public statement regarding the conflict to clarify its position or protect its integrity; individuals involved will be notified in advance.

7. Appeals

Appeals may be filed within 14 days of the outcome notice, limited to:

- New evidence.
- Procedural error.
- Disproportionate sanction.

Appeals are reviewed by a separate, Council-appointed 3-member panel (the “Appeals Panel”), and their recommendation is referred to the Council. No member of the original preliminary investigation or review process may serve on the Appeals Panel. The Council’s decision after review of the appeal is final.

8. Recordkeeping and Transparency

- A secure log of reported issues is maintained by the Council.
- Aggregated, de-identified annual reports may be published for transparency.
- Records will be maintained for a minimum of 7 years.

9. Protection Against Retaliation

RIIS 2.0 prohibits retaliation against any individual for:

- Reporting to the Council, or to a federal, state, or local agency, what the complainant believes in good faith to be illegal, fraudulent, or in violation of any policy of the RIIS 2.0.
- Participating in good faith in any resulting investigation or proceeding.
- Exercising his or her rights under any state or federal law(s) or regulation(s) to pursue a claim or take legal action to protect the complainant’s rights.

RIIS 2.0 may take disciplinary action (up to and including termination) against an officer, director, employee, or volunteer who has engaged in retaliatory conduct in violation of this policy.

10. Jurisdiction and Legal Disclaimer

Nothing in this policy limits the legal rights of any party to seek recourse under applicable local, state, or federal laws.

4. Rights and Limitations

4.1. Other Content and Sites. Your use of others' content and information posted on the RIIS 2.0 website is at your own risk. RIIS 2.0 does not review all of the content provided by our Affiliates or others on our website. Likewise, we do not endorse, supervise, or monitor any services offered by Affiliates or third parties on our website or communication platforms, or any third-party events that may be listed.

RIIS 2.0 may help you register for and/or attend events organized by Affiliates and connect with other Affiliates who are attendees at such events. You agree that RIIS 2.0 is not responsible for the conduct of any attendees at such events.

4.2. Content and Intellectual Property. RIIS 2.0 values open scholarship and respects the ownership of work you create. By default, you retain all rights to your own work. Before you submit content (such as a blog post, publication, contributions to shared documents through Working Groups, or software) for inclusion on official RIIS 2.0 platforms, you may be required to grant a non-exclusive, royalty-free license to RIIS 2.0 to use, reproduce, and share the content for scholarly or promotional purposes only. If any such license is required, it will be clearly stated at the point of submission. Informal contributions (such as chat messages or discussions) are not subject to any license.

RIIS 2.0 retains rights to materials it creates directly or commissions, including official website content, publications, software, and branding. You agree not to copy, distribute, or modify RIIS 2.0 intellectual property — including its name and logo — for commercial purposes or in a way that implies institutional endorsement without permission.

You may use the RIIS 2.0 name or logo in contexts that reflect your affiliation — for example, on a personal website or business card — as long as it is clear you are acting as an individual Affiliate, not on behalf of the organization.

You also agree to ensure that any content you submit does not violate the law, infringe on the intellectual property or other rights of third parties.

4.3. No Warranty. RIIS 2.0 provides no warranty about the delivery of Services, including assuring that Services will be uninterrupted and error-free; RIIS 2.0 provides Services on an “as is” and “as available” basis.

4.4. Exclusion of Liability. RIIS 2.0 will not be liable for lost profits or lost business opportunities, reputation (e.g., offensive or defamatory statements), loss of data (e.g., downtime or loss, use of, or changes to, your information or content), or any indirect, incidental, consequential, special or punitive damages that may occur during your Affiliation at the RIIS 2.0.

The limitations of liability in this section are part of the basis of the agreement between you (the Affiliate) and RIIS 2.0 and shall apply to all claims of liability (e.g., warranty, tort, negligence, contract, and law) even if RIIS 2.0 has been told of the possibility of any such damage, and even if these remedies fail their essential purpose.

These limitations of liability do not apply to liability for death or personal injury or for fraud, gross negligence or intentional misconduct, or in cases of negligence where a material obligation has been breached, a material obligation being such which forms a prerequisite to our delivery of services and on which you may reasonably rely, but only to the extent that the damages were directly caused by the breach and were foreseeable upon conclusion of this Contract and to the extent that they are typical in the context of this Contract.

4.5. Disclaimer. The views and opinions expressed by Affiliates of RIIS 2.0, whether on public platforms, in publications, or in internal discussions, are solely those of the individual and do not necessarily reflect the views, positions, or policies of the Ronin Institute as an organization. RIIS 2.0 reserves the right to moderate, remove, or restrict content that violates community guidelines or applicable law.

5. Termination

Upon your Termination, you lose the right to access or use any Services of RIIS 2.0. Outside of these Services, the Terms of Service described in this document shall survive termination.

6. Governing Law and Dispute Resolution

6.1. Enforceability. If a court with authority over this Terms of Service contract finds any part of it unenforceable, you and RIIS 2.0 agree that the court should modify the terms to achieve its intent. If the court cannot do that, you and RIIS 2.0 agree to ask the court to remove that unenforceable part and enforce the remainder of this contract.

This contract (including additional terms that may be provided by us when you engage with a feature of the Services) is the only agreement regarding RIIS 2.0 Services and supersedes all prior agreements for Services.

If RIIS 2.0 does not enforce a breach of this contract, that does not mean that RIIS 2.0 has waived its right to enforce it. You may not assign or transfer this contract (or your Affiliation or use of Services) to anyone without our consent.

6.2. Binding Arbitration. In the event of any dispute, claim, or controversy arising out of or relating to this agreement or the breach, termination, enforcement, interpretation, or validity thereof, including the scope or applicability of this agreement to arbitrate, the parties agree to submit the matter to binding arbitration.

- Arbitration shall be administered by the American Arbitration Association (AAA) under its Nonprofit Sector Rules, or by a mutually agreed-upon alternative.
- The arbitration shall take place in California, unless both parties agree to a remote format or a different venue.
- Each party shall bear its own legal costs and fees, unless the arbitrator determines that one party has acted in bad faith or vexatiously.
- The arbitrator shall have the authority to grant equitable relief or remedies that a court of law could provide, and the award shall be final and binding upon the parties.
- Judgment on the arbitration award may be entered in any court having jurisdiction.

This clause shall survive the termination of Affiliation.
